/ Our aim for this brief was to create a video with images and a typographic overlay to contrast the letters.

Abbie and Aiel

The two discuss writing letters to each other when they were both younger, and express the difference of how we communicate to one another compared to how it used to be.

/ Our aim for this brief was to create a video with images and a typographic overlay to contrast the letters.

After seeing the music video 'Step' for the band VAMPIRE WEEKEND we both decided it would fit perfectly with the audio clips we had been given and both agreed the style of the video would compliment the audio.

// It's funny because today, you realise you never give anybody your address, not even your phone, you'd ask for their email, or their Facebook.
Or something. That wasn't even an option, today it sounds so.
Victorian almost to write letters, ink on paper then put them in an air mail envelope and you need to go to a post office to stamp them and send them, and then wait a few days and maybe they don't arrive.
